Six years connecting web design and conversion.

WEB DESIGN / EXPERIMENTATION / B2B SAAS

MY ROLE

I worked on websites and landing pages for conversion, and co-led the rebuild of Blip's web ecosystem in three languages.

Public WhatsApp page, captured on 28 October 2026. A current visual reference for a page I worked on, not a reconstruction of its 2025 state.

A result from the corporate website.

2025 / CORPORATE WEBSITE CONVERSION PAGE

>16%

conversion rate

~170%

increase in conversion

The result came from a continuous cycle of tests, adjustments, SEO and applying what we learned to the corporate website.

Scope: the corporate website's conversion page in 2025. This is separate from the WhatsApp page shown on the previous board.

Data, design and SEO in one cycle.

The page is a starting point. What people do on it informs the next version.

01

Read the signals

Use analytics and observed behaviour to identify friction.

02

Build a hypothesis

Connect the problem with a specific change in the page.

03

Test and adjust

Work on design, copy, implementation and SEO.

04

Apply the learning

Use what was learned to inform the next iteration.

My contribution

I connected visual design, implementation and experimentation, so improvements could become part of the site's ongoing work.

A summary of my working approach across web and CRO projects. The 2025 result is presented on its own board.
